

In 1939, Stacey Woods and a few Canadian friends went south of the border to explore the open doors for ministry at the University of Michigan (even though it wasn't in their current job description!). That scouting trip resulted in the first chapter of InterVarsity USA getting started, and 74 years later InterVarsity serves 40,000 students and faculty on 600 campuses.

This February, InterVarsity's Chapter Planting Dept. is bringing the adventurous, apostolic spirit of Stacey Woods back by announcing SCOUT WITH STACEY WEEK. During February 24th to 28th, we're inviting the entire movement to make a scouting visit to a college campus that doesn't have an InterVarsity chapter.

Grab some staff partners, students, friends, alumni, and explore! Don't forget to download a picture of Stacey and bring it with you—then take a picture with him on your visit and post your stories on the InterVarsity Staff Facebook page! Let's make history by reaching 1000 campuses together!
